

Reagan Shugart, Teaching Assistant

Reagan Shugart, a native of Denton, Texas, discovered her passion for dance at an early age. Her training spans a wide range of styles including Ballet, Jazz, Acrobatics, Contemporary, Hip-Hop, Modern, Pointe, Pom, and Drill Team. She performed as a principal dancer with the Denton City Contemporary Ballet, gaining extensive stage experience across Texas. A committed performer and natural leader, Reagan served as captain of her high school drill team for two consecutive years. She was also selected for the prestigious Texas Dance Educators Association (TDEA) All-State Elite Team and was honored to be chosen for the DanceLine USA Team—both distinctions recognizing her exceptional talent and dedication to the art of dance.

Reagan is currently pursuing a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Dance Education with an emphasis on classroom inclusivity at Texas State University in San Marcos. Upon graduation, she plans to remain in the Austin area, where she aims to integrate movement therapy and inclusive practices into public school dance programs. Her long-term goal includes directing a high school drill team that champions equity and ensures every student has the opportunity to shine. Driven by her belief in creating positive and welcoming dance environments, Reagan is passionate about inspiring the next generation of dancers to pursue their artistic dreams with confidence and joy.
